

OHIO RIVER CLAIMS SECOND VICTIM FOR PRESENT SEASON

Fourteen-year-old Boy Is Pulled Down
By Strong Undercurrent—Body Recovered in About an Hour.

William Edward Cooper, fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooper of the West End, was drowned in the Ohio River at a point just below the old Beasley eddy at about 6:30 o'clock Friday evening.

The boy with his younger brother, Otis, were in bathing and were riding a log, when the older brother slipped from the log. Old timers, who know this section of the river, say that there is a very strong undercurrent from the eddy above in this section and it is supposed that the boy was caught by the under current and swept rapidly to the bed of the river.

Immediately upon the boy's sinking, the alarm was sounded by his younger brother and a search was started. The body was recovered a short distance from where he sank within an hour and physicians endeavored to resuscitate him but their efforts were of no avail.

The younger brother became very much excited and also sank but he was rescued by men nearby and was revived by the physicians.

Neither of the boys could swim.

HOW DO LOOK, WHEN CARTOONED?

Look out! Weaver, the cartoonist, is coming to the Chautauqua Tuesday afternoon, August eighth. He has his paper and crayons ready—what will suggest itself to him? Timely topics—ridiculously funny occurrences—the inspiring beauty of nature—the worthwhileness of observation—and just downright foolishness. He is a veritable "picture show" and lecturer all in one. At last we have a successful "talking movie."

You can buy the $2 Chautauqua tickets at the Ledger office. 28-1f

OLD FEUD MAY BE BEHIND MURDER OF WINCHESTER MAN

Detectives Work on Clue That Old Feud Between Renaker and Another Prominent Family May Have Been Renewed.

Working on a clue, the nature of which they declined to divulge, operatives of the Cal Crim Detective Bureau Friday night predicted an early solution of the mystery connected with the murder on Monday night of Leon Renaker, 37 years old, Winchester, Kentucky.

Renaker was found dead in bed on Tuesday by his wife upon her return home from Cincinnati.

From the position of his body, Winchester officials, authorities of Clark county and detectives from the Crim bureau declare that his murderer stole into the house and struck him over the head while he was seated on the side of his bed.

Adam Renaker, the murdered man's uncle, who lives in Covington and who returned from Winchester Friday, said he thought the death of his nephew probably would be linked eventually with a feud of long standing existing between the Renaker family and another family well known in the vicinity of Winchester.

The feud was "born" on Halloween night, 1910, when Chapman Renaker, a brother of Leon, was shot and killed during an argument in which he drew a knife.

Renaker's assailant was tried in a Cynthiana (Ky.) court and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary after pleading self-defense.

Adam Renaker said last night that the Winchester police were endeavoring to trace a man who had been seen walking toward home with Renaker the night he was killed.

One angle being looked into Friday by officials and Ora Slater and F. D. Curry of the Crim bureau was a story told by Mrs. William Phillips, whose home is near the Renaker home.

Mrs. Phillips told the investigators that on Monday night she was awakened by cries for "help," and other sounds coming from the Renaker apartment.

She said that she awakened her husband, but went back to sleep again when he told her that she must have been dreaming.

An effort was being made Friday by the authorities to have Mrs. Phillips recall what other words she heard uttered in the Renaker home besides the calls for help.

Mrs. Phillips said she could not remember the other words she heard. Detective Slater said if all other methods failed to recall to the woman the words uttered he might ask her to submit to hypnosis.

Along with numerous clues being run down by them the Crim Detective Bureau Friday had an expert working on fingerprints found in the dead man's bedroom. It was thought that after the prints have been developed additional light may be thrown on the mystery.

It also was learned Friday that Renaker carried an insurance policy on his life of $51,000. His wife, according to information from Winchester, was named as his beneficiary. Another recent act of Renaker shortly before his death, was that he made application for membership in a Winchester church.

CARTOONIST WEAVER.

Cartoons and "Funny Pictures" are more widely used by newspapers than any other material that appears in printed form. It is because of the universal demand that the newspapers everywhere publish them. That is why G. E. Weaver, the cartoonist who came to the Chautauqua Tuesday afternoon, August eighth, is meeting with such impressive success everywhere. He is as full of fun as a June day is full of sunshine. His talks are irresistibly funny—pictures and jokes appear simultaneously—a few tears are thrown in to make the laughter all the more hearty. His chalk talk lectures are different from all others.

Colonel Russell Taking Great Interest In Letting People Know About Kentucky State Fair.

Beyond a doubt Colonel J. Barbour Russell, manager of the Kentucky Cardinal Band, is the biggest booster in the state and that fair which gets him interested certainly is a winner for we believe he could put it across single handed any place.

Just now the Colonel is devoting much attention to boosting the Kentucky State Fair for which the Cardinals will play. The following letter is from Mr. Lewis M. Lebus, Cynthiana, one of the directors of the State Fair:

"Dear Mr. Russell:—The postal cards received, and I sure will get them out, for they are going to do the fair a lot of good. Yes, your man put the window cards in nearly every place in town, and I want to tell you that they are being noticed. I have heard more favorable comment from them than from those we put up last year for the fair.

OUR POLICY:

THE MISSION'S FREE HOSPITAL

The good women of the City Mission Board are broadening the service of that institution and while they are not attempting to compete with or take the place of a hospital, they have seen the great need of a free hospital ward and have set about to meet that need with willing hands and bubbling hearts.

There were many who visited the Mission Home during the hospital shower Friday and many contributed to the hospital but the need of this part of the Mission's work is to be continuous and the more fortunate of Maysville's residents must encourage these noble women in their work by contributing liberally and often.

This is indeed the practice of a practical Christianity. Christ, himself, went about doing good while He was among men.

CAMP IS OPENED WITH MANY ON THE GROUNDS AT RUGGLES.

Throng of Campers Looking Forward to Opening of Epworth Institute On Monday—Dr. Miller Sunday.

(By J. H. RICHARDSON.) Ruggles Campgrounds, July 27. — To the Reverend G. N. Jolly, D. D., of Bellevue, Ky., one of our most beloved and honored campers for many years, was given the honor of preaching the opening sermon of the 1922 campmeeting. At 10:30 Thursday morning a good-sized audience was in the tabernacle ready for the first hour's worship. Dr. Jolly gave us a sermon. For the first time our campmeeting opened with a strong sermon on patriotism. Dr. Jolly is always interesting. And as he told about the greatness of our nation coupling this with our immense responsibility toward the saving of the world we felt as never before how much depends upon our beloved land. More of such sermons are needed to awaken our people to a full sense of their responsibility and opportunity.

Rev. W. S. Peters, popular pastor of Third street church, Maysville, brought afternoon message, and Rev. A. F. Felts, of Vanceburg, the evening sermon. Both were fired with zeal for the success of God's cause as it shall be advanced by the services of the present campmeeting. Those attending have been in very encouraging numbers for the first day.

The camp is rapidly filling up. The campers have been coming in all day. Many new faces are showing up. Manager Peters is being kept busy assigning campers to their places and finding room for transient visitors. With the additional equipment on hand we are assured that all who desire to come can find accommodations.

Rev. Thos. B. Ashley, our musical director with his family arrived this afternoon from Pikeville and are again comfortably sheltered in the Lane Inn. This is Bro. Ashley's fourth year to lead us in song. His popularity as a song leader is established with Ruggles campers.

Mr. A. A. Kenner, of Newport, well known to many of our campers, but who had not visited Ruggles for some time, arrived this afternoon for a stay with old time friends and to enjoy the camp life.

Mr. John Venn, representing the Methodist Book Concern, of Cincinnati, arrived this afternoon with a supply of the best books published. He will open up his branch store in the Children's Chapel tomorrow. He comes upon the invitation of the management of our Epworth League Institute. For an institute calls for many books which can be gotten only from the Methodist publishing house.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Politt and daughter arrived this morning and are occupying one of our best cottages.

Rev. J. H. Burden, of Wallingford, joined our increasing corps of preachers today.

Miss Marie Duzan went to Maysville this morning for a couple of days. Mrs. E. P. Wiggins came from Maysville today and will camp with Mrs. J. H. Dodson from now on until the close.

Miss Nellie Thoroghaman and sister of Nashport arrived this evening. They are camping in the Lane Inn.

Rev. John Lewis, of Trinity M. E. church, Louisville, who is to be the Dean and leading spirit in the institute, wired Manager Peters today that he and his family would arrive tomorrow, coming through in an automobile.

Mr. D. Paul Glascock, of Maysville, and Mrs. Norwood, of Ft. Myers, Fla., were among the day's arrivals.

There is a different feeling at the beginning of this campmeeting. Most everybody is looking forward to next Monday the day for the institute. This change of program has been talked about so much and so widely advertised that people are just anxious to see what it is like. Dean Fort has called a meeting of his faculty for Saturday evening to plan finally for the coming week. All who come Sunday will hear definitely what is in store for our people for next week.

Let us again remind our readers of our Sunday preacher, Dr. Miller. From what we have heard of him we feel that we are justified in urging everyone possible to come on the first Sunday and hear him.

COAL MINES AND BANKS SUFFER FROM R. R. STRIKE.

Whitesburg. — It is believed that coal production in the Elkhorn-Hazard fields of Eastern Kentucky will be cut to less than 30 per cent. the coming week as a result of the trainmen's strike. As a result of the closing of mines all business is hampered in Eastern Kentucky. Banks have felt the effect of the decreased operation of mines, deposits having fallen off over 70 per cent. Most mines are only able to operate but a day and a half or two days the week. New mines receive preference and are getting cars almost every day. Few trains are operating in the Eastern Kentucky coal fields.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE FIRST RETURN FROM EXILE.

Jer. 29:10-14; Ezra 1:1-11.
The long night of Babylonish captivity is closing. The years of yearning for the beloved home country is coming to an end. God has compassion on them and the way is being opened for their return. The sure word of prophecy is being fulfilled. Cyrus, God's appointed deliverer for Israel—appointed and named in prophecy many decades before his birth—is ruling over Babylon. Ezra, God's second Moses, has made ready to lead the people back to Canaan. The lesson begins with the prophecy of Jeremiah, "For thus saith the Lord, That after seventy years be accomplished at Babylon I will visit you, and perform my good work toward you, in causing you to return to this place." These seventy years had been seventy years of chastisement. Idolatry had brought them to it, and it was here in Babylon that they decided forever to quit idols. Why you ask is God so opposed to idols? Friends God wants us to be like Jesus, and by looking unto him we are changed into his image. If we look unto idols we are changed into the image of that which sinful man has created, so it is for our good as well as for his glory that we should worship the Lord only.

1. The Permission to Return—The Lord stirred up Cyrus to make this proclamation to the captive Jews. For had God not prophesied this very thing by means of his servants. In the proclamation we find first the call for volunteers. Many of the people who had been led captive to this country, Babylon, had settled there, especially of the younger generation and had no desire to return, but God had a work to be done at Jerusalem, the temple must be rebuilt, the walls repaired and the city put in order for was not the time of Christ's advent drawing nearer. As God needed volunteers to prepare for the first coming of Christ then, so today he needs volunteers to prepare for the second advent of his Son. Shall we continue to dwell in the captivity of sin unprepared ourselves and refusing to warn others of their doom? Fathers, mothers, teachers, and leaders. Which way are you leading those who are looking to you? God never sends His people out without providing for their needs, so now he directs those who remain to give of their gold and silver, their goods and beasts, and of their freewill offering for the help and encouragement of those who are going.

2. The Return—The volunteers consisted of the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, those who had come from these countries into captivity and had never forgotten their own beloved land, also there were the priests and Levites and others whom the spirit of God had raised up for this work. Their neighbors were very generous with them and gave them much help, best of all the king commanded that all of the precious and holy vessels which Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the temple should now be brought forth and given to the Jews to take them back with them and to be placed in the new temple to be built at Jerusalem. There were five thousand four hundred of these vessels. What would have happened to them if they had been left at Jerusalem in the temple there. Surely God knew what was best when he allowed them to be taken to Babylon.

There were forty-two thousand of the Jews besides more than seven thousand servants and maids, and two hundred singing men and women who set out on this longed for journey. They had to endure discomforts, but they were so overjoyed by the fact that they were actually on the road to their own country they did not mind it. On and on they went day after day, mile after mile. At last they drew near to the borders of that country which had been that of their race. With what eager eyes they caught sight of the glimpse of it. What joy welled up in their hearts at the prospect. Soon their feet touched their own soil. They were back again, returned from the dreadful captivity. They were a free people once more, in possession of their own land.

"SAFE INVESTMENTS."

Recently Raymond Hitchcock was credited with giving a "sure fire" system for "beating" the races. It was not to bet on them. Now comes the United States Treasury Department with a "sure fire" investment. The department advises buying Treasury Savings Certificates. These certificates are sold at $20, $50 and $100 and in five years are paid off at $25, $100 and $1,000, respectively. This is 25 per cent in five years; there are no taxes to pay on them and as the name of each owner is recorded in Washington the loss of the certificate itself does not mean the loss of the investment. And Uncle Sam stands behind the guarantee.

Both of the foregoing systems are unbeatable in their respective fields and might well be "twinned up" for the best results. What is saved by taking Mr. Hitchcock's advice may be made into insurance against ill fortune in years to come by accepting the advice of the Treasury Department.

CAMPERS HAVING A GREAT TIME AT RUGGLES MEETING

Feature of This Year's Camp Meeting,
Epworth Institute, Begins Next Week—Many Expected
Sunday.

(By J. H. RICHARDSON.)

Ruggles Campgrounds, July 28.—The second day of the campmeeting and the biggest evening crowd we have ever seen on the grounds this early in the meeting. A large audience greeted Rev. S. K. Hunt who preached a powerful evangelistic sermon to the evening crowd. After the service when campers and visitors flocked the campus it was like the close of the second week—so many young people on promenade. All services of the day have been enjoyable and helpful. And so has the social life of the camp. The heat, however, is being felt somewhat to our discomfort, and the campus and fields about never appeared so dried up from the heat and lack of rain.

The morning prayer services began this morning with Rev. Hunt in charge. When the institute begins this service will be changed to the morning watch and Bible study period with Dr. Robert Burch Foster in charge. We are looking forward with glad anticipation to this special service in the pleasant hours of the early morning. We predict they will be among the most enjoyable and most profitable from the spiritual standpoint of any of the institute.

Rev. N. G. Griswold, of Tollesboro, gave the sermon at the morning worship hour. Rev. J. H. Burden, one of our younger preachers, gave his first sermon to Ruggles campers at 3 p. m. Both were sermons of good thought and practical teaching.

Our friends in charge of the hotel, Bobbitt and Price, have made themselves solid with their boarders and the campers thus early in the meetings. The "eats" are strictly fine. Such fine biscuits! Such good, juicy tender steak, cooked just right! And everything else just the same. We understand they have a colored chef who has had much experience of steamboats and first-class hotels. If it's the doing the cooking well say he knows the job. A. E. Bobbitt, a dining room man of many years experience, is at his post and seeing that every one has good service.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Henderson and Mrs. Mack J. Hendrickson and son, of Maysville, and Mrs. W. C. Teager of Paris, arrived today for the camp.

The Rev. John Lowe Fort, wife and two daughters, of Louisville, motored in late this evening. Dr. Fort is the originator of the plan to hold an Epworth League Institute at this place. For his suggestion he has been made the dean of the assembly and will now assume charge. The building of the program has been his job and next week will tell how he has succeeded.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Carpenter arrived this afternoon and have taken possession of their room in the Kentucky Inn. We're sure glad Sam is here. Somehow something seemed out of joint with matters about our Inn. Now we see it was because Sam wasn't here.

Rev. E. V. Cole, of East Maysville, joined the preachers party at the camp this afternoon.

A party of young men—Messrs. George and Wallace Warner, Arthur Spices and Lorenz Miller—all of Hamilton, Ohio, motored into camp this

DOCTOR ORDERED WOMAN OBEYED

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and is Now Well

Chicago, Illinois.—"You surely gave women one good medicine when you put Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on the market. After I had my baby I was all run down and so nervous it kept me from gaining. My doctor did everything he could to build me up, then he ordered me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with his medicine and I am now a new woman. I have had three children and they are all Lydia E. Pinkham babies. I have recommended your medicine to several friends and they speak highly of it. You are certainly doing good work in this world."—Mrs. ADRIEN TOSHECK, 10567 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

There is nothing very strange about the doctor directing Mrs. Tosheck to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. There are many physicians who do recommend it and highly appreciate its value.

Women who are nervous, run down, and suffering from women's ailments should give this well-known root and herb medicine a trial. Mrs. Tosheck's experience should guide you towards health.

ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT MAY VISIT BLUEGRASS.

Mr. M. H. Sexton, President of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues in answer to a communication from President Russell sustained a decision of the Bluegrass League President regarding a controversy in the league and goes on further to compliment the league.

Mr. Sexton after receiving the report of the Bluegrass League says it is by far the strongest circuit of Class D leagues from which he has received reports and praised highly the transportation system now in use in the league. He expressed regret that he has been unable to visit this circuit but as soon as the present railroad conditions clear up he hopes to make this section a visit.

CHUCK McDANIEL GOES TO TENNESSEE TEAM.

The Portsmouth (O.) Sun says:
Chuck McDaniel, star catcher for the Vulcan Last team left Thursday night for Bristol, Tenn., where he will join the Bristol Appalachian League team.

McDaniel, while regretting to leave Portsmouth, was made such a tempt- in offer by the Bristol team that he felt he could not turn it down.

He was hitting round the .425 mark in the Industrial League here and his throwing is in a class by itself.

McDaniel's many friends here predict for him a bright future in the great national game.

afternoon and at once engaged a tent from Manager Peters and were shortly fixed for a big time with Ruggles campers.

Rev. S. K. Hunt leaves in the morning for a Sunday appointment at Advance and Ashland. He will return Monday bringing several institutions with him.

Miss Marie Duzan returned from her Maysville trip this afternoon she having made the trip to attend the dinner party given by Miss Esculine Traxel.

That branch of the Methodist Book Concern is one of the most attractive places on the campus. With as fine a line of books as can be seen anywhere and with such a polite and genial clerk in charge as we have known John Venn to be for many, many years, we are expecting this department of the institute to be a mecca for crowds daily.

EAGLES TO TAKE BIG TRIP TO THE WEST

H. L. Walsh, Worthy President of Local Eagles, and Mr. George Eitel, Will Attend National Convention.

Mr. Harry L. Walsh, Worthy President of the local order of Eagles, and Mr. George Eitel, one of the local order's most active members, leave next week for St. Paul to attend the meeting of the Grand Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and on their trip to St. Paul, they will visit some of the most interesting points in America.

The trip will be made on a special train with many Eagles' representatives from Ohio and Kentucky leaving Cincinnati. The trip includes liberal stop-overs at Chicago and other points. After an eight day stay at the convention at St. Paul, the party will leave on its special train visiting Yellowstone Park, the Grand Canyon, Pikes Peak and return to Cincinnati.

The local men are planning a great trip. Mr. Eitel leaves Thursday and Mr. Walsh will join him in Cincinnati Saturday on which day the special train leaves for the West.
